

Reflective Essay Assignment for English 2089

Write a reflective essay on how you have progressed as a reader, writer, critical thinker, and researcher this term in English 2089 and connect this development to the type of writing you expect to do in future college classes and in your career. The essay should be organized and have a clear thesis. Write in first person and refer to the reading and writing you've done this term and, if you want, in previous composition courses; you may even quote from your own essays. This essay should be in MLA format and at least a full 3 or 4 pages long. You do not need a Works Cited page.
